Title - A FEVER DREAM OF A FEMINIST INTERNET

- At present the internet is under the influence of government and corporate control.

- The project aims to create an alternative kind of internet that believes in individual and community holding.

- To make this project available for people the project uses metaphors and other forms of knowledge such as indigenous and local practices.

- Under this project a 3D essay called Gathering Multitudes: A Bag of Stars helps players to enter the game world to imagine spaces such as seed banks as a metaphor for digital servers.

Text Ends Here